WILSON KEEPS IN LEAD

It May Be Weeks Before Final Result of Tuesday's Election Will be Made Known.

New York, No. 9—With both sides refusing to concede victory for the other, and with everybody at both headquarters making strenuous efforts to get exact information in the two States, the Democrats and Republicans at 2 o'clock this afternoon are following, precinct by precinct, the count in California and Minnesota, knowing that in those States the election of a President of the United States will be settled.

Woodrow Wilson will be the next President if he wins California.

Charles E. Hughes must carry both California and Minnesota to win.

On the fact of the returns at 2 o'clock Minnesota apparently has gone Republican, but by the narrowest sort of plurality which the uncounted soldier vote may wipe out.

California probably will settle the most exciting Presidential contest since 1876.

As matters stood at 1 o'clock Wilson had 260 votes in the Electoral Collage. This was an increase of nine votes over night, his gain being made up by the five votes from North Dakota and the four votes from New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 9.—Senator Hollis announced today that Wilson's plurality in New Hampshire positively is 93.

New York, Nov. 9.—Returns from North Dakota up to 11 o'clock this morning made it so certain Wilson had carried the State that it was transferred to his column, bringing the total Wilson vote up to 256, and leaving him 10 votes to get before he is elected.

Oregon, which was in the doubtful column last night, showed up this morning as a Hughes State, and its five votes brought the Hughes total up to 239, which means he must get 27 more votes in order to be elected.

In California Wilson leads by 4,396 with less than 400 precincts to be heard from.

Minnesota continues its swing toward Hughes, giving him a lead of 800, with 500 precincts missing.

New Mexico shows a Hughes lead of 258, with half the precincts missing, and West Virginia with most of its heavily Republican counties reported Hughes ahead with 2,370. There are still about one-third of the precincts missing.

Two important developments which will affect the result no matter who is declared winner on the unofficial returns are reported today.

One is that the soldier vote is yet to be counted in the doubtful States.

From Minnesota there are 3,140 soldiers on the border, and their votes will have tremendous weight in view of the closeness of the election in that State. The votes, cast on Tuesday, are now being rushed back to Minnesota, but probably cannot be tallied much before Saturday.

This will delay the final announcement of the vote.

New Hampshire, which also is very close, so close that the Democrats were able today to say they had carried it, has 1,375 voters among the troops at the border. Their votes also probably will not be announced before Saturday.

Other close States having voters on the border are North Dakota with 993, and New Mexico with 957. Tallying of their votes may delay the final returns from all these close States.

The second important development is the fact that both sides are prepared already to demand a recount of the vote in close States and districts. Such recounts may delay the final result for weeks.

Forest fires raging across the vast timberlands west of Lexington, Ky., threaten the destruction of thousands of dollars' worth of property. Small towns in the path of the flames are threatened.

Halibut, red salmon, haddock, white perch, rockfish and salt water trout on sale tomorrow and Saturday by Geo. E. Price and Co., City Market. Phone 321 J. 263-1t.

ACCIDENT TO AVIATORS

Naval Flyers and Machine Bdown 4c Pieces by Bomb Near Indian Head Yesterday.

In the course of a spectacular experiment with a new type of aeroplane bomb at Indian Head, Md., 18 1-2 miles below Alexandria, yesterday afternoon Naval Lieutenants Clarence K. Bronson and Luther Welsh were instantly killed.

While flying at an altitude of 1,000 feet the bomb exploded immediately, beneath the aeroplane, breaking it in two. Bronson, pilot of the machine, and Welsh, who had just hurled the bomb, fell together with parts of the aeroplane, into the Potomac river.

The accident occurred at the navy proving grounds, at 2:45 o'clock. Experiments with the new aeroplane bomb were being conducted under the supervision of Lieutenant Wilkinson and other experts from the Bureau of Ordnance. The explosive with which the bomb was charged was said to be one of the most powerful ever experimented with, but the secret of its composition is guarded by the Navy Department.

The official account of the accident was given out by the Navy Department as follows:

"Lieut. Luther Welsh and Lieut. C. K. Bronson were killed yesterday afternoon by the premature explosion of an aeroplane bomb during experimental work in testing bombs for use against vessels."

"The bomb detonated immediately beneath the aeroplane. It was being launched by Lieutenant Welsh, and apparently struck some part of the aeroplane. It was seen to detonate, and the aeroplane break in two and fall into the river. Hardly any trace of aeroplane or passengers has been located yet.

"A portion of a human stomach has been recovered from the river, but that is all.

"This occurred at 2:45 p. m. yesterday. The experiments were being conducted by Lieutenant Wilkinson and representatives of the Bureau of Ordnance."

Lieutenant Wilkinson later informed the department that a search party had proceeded at once to the scene of the accident and dragged the river. Nothing additional was recovered, however, except a portion of one seat of the aeroplane and a part of the tail.

Naval officials declared this to be the first accident of the kind in the history of aviation.

The Navy Department notified the families of the two officers killed.

Lieutenant Bronson was born in Bushnell, Ill., July 21, 1888, and was appointed a midshipman June 15, 1906 from New York, Ninth district. He was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1912 and assigned to the Mississippi for aviation duty. In April, 1915, after his promotion to lieutenant, he was designated as naval aviator for duty involving actual flying in aircraft. On September 1, last he was ordered to temporary duty at Newport News, Va., to study aviation at an aviation school.

Lieutenant Welch was born at Kansas City, Mo., June 20, 1889, and was appointed midshipman July 3, 1905, from the Fifth Missouri district. He was graduated in 1909, a star in his class. He served on several ships and in the Bureau of Ordnance, later continuing courses at the proving grounds and at various steel works. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1915 and served as an aid on the staff of the commander of the Third division. Atlantic fleet. On March 18 last he was assigned to duty at Indian Head.

ALLEGED ELECTION FRAUDS

Washington, Nov. 9—The Department of Justice has sent a large force of skilled investigators to Minnesota to investigate charges of election frauds there.

Reports that have come from various Minnesota points caused this action of the department.

His report to the department has not yet been made public, However, several other investigators went from the Chicago office to points in the pivotal State last night.

MARTIN MAY BE LEADER

Defeat of Senator Kerns Brings Out Several Candidates

The Senate after March 4, will be changed materially by the loss of some of its well-known figures.

Democratic strength in the Senate allowing for the Maine election, is 55. The Senate after March 4, will have 52 Democrats and 44 Republicans, though final returns may change this slightly.

Senator Kern, Democratic leader, is the most conspicuous of the Democrats to lose. Other Democrats beaten are Taggart of Indiana, Martine of New Jersey, and probably Chilton of West Virginia, Senator Johnson of Maine was defeated in September.

Republican Senators who are defeated are Lippitt of Rhode Island, Clark of Wyoming, and Sutherland, of Utah. All are well known Senators. Senator Clark was long chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

The defeat of Senator Kern means a new majority leader will have to be chosen. Senator Martin of Virginia is prominently mentioned. Others who are possibilities are Walsh of Montana, Underwood of Alabama, and Simmons of North Carolina.

PRESIDENT CONFIDENT

Believes That He Has Been Elected in a Close Race.

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 9. — When President Wilson arose about 7 o'clock this morning he found the same doubt hanging over the election results that existed when he retired last night.

It still looks like a horse race in the minds of Administration officials. The President and Secretary Tumulty, however, feel that the Democrats have the rail and may be able to nose out a victory.

This is the way it looked to them at 8 o'clock.

The President has 251 electoral votes sure. He had a small lead in North Dakota and California, which he will have to fight to maintain. He has dropped slightly behind in Minnesota and only a strong swing back to him can save that State.

So, no one is making any forecast as to the outcome. At 8 o'clock Secretary Tumulty reiterated his assertion: "It is close but all right."

GERMANS BEATEN BACK

Infantry Rush Broken Up By the French After Sharp Fighting, Says Paris.

Artillery action was continuous and heavy through the night.

The Germans betrayed nervousness in their curtain-firing.

QUIET UNDER NEW LAW

No Cases on Docket of Police Court This Morning—Serene Conditions Last Night.

There was no session of the Police Court this morning. The officers on duty during the night reported tranquility in their respective beats. The determination of the authorities to enforce the law against drunkenness in the streets and drinking intoxicants in public is producing salutary results. The finding of a bottle of liquor in the pockets of a person arrested for intoxication heretofore has been a trivial incident, but under the prohibition statute, the law officers endeavor to ascertain where the liquor was obtained, also if the same has been drunk in the street, or any where save the home of the owner. Hence persons addicted to intoxicants are becoming wary.

During the past nine days the new law has been operative comparatively few cases of infraction of the same have been detected. In most of those, it is believed, the accused were not aware of the fact that they were breaking the law, especially some who were seen to drink in public. The enforcement of a fine of five dollars for being drunk and the sending of others to the grand jury for transporting liquor into the state, is having the desired effect.

As was noticed yesterday, former liquor dealers have entered into other avocations, and are accommodating themselves to present conditions cheerfully. Their former customers, or such of them who will drink, are but a few miles away from the tempting bowl, but they realize that drinking to excess in the capital city is risky, as "drunks" are sent to Occoquan when they fall into the police net. Should they manage to escape the argus eyes of the Washington police and reach Alexandria in a bad condition they are likely to be brought before the Police Court here.

GERMAN-AMERICAN VOTE

Cologne Gazette Says Wilson's Course Has Been Resented

Amsterday, Nov. 9—Based on the Reuter announcement in Europe that President Wilson had been defeated in his race for re-election, German papers attribute the result to the German-American vote. The Cologne Gazette, in conspicuous comment says:

"They (the German-Americans) have not forgotten that President Wilson questioned their American patriotism and at the same time closed both his eyes to England's war of starvation against women and children, and that under Wilson America became a great ammunition depot for our enemies. Now they have squared the account with him. The Cologne Volkszeitung said: "In German-American circles Wilson's defeat was received with great rejoicing."

FLEES AFTER KILLING BOY.

Automobile Driver Does Not Even Slacken Speed of Car.

Middletown, Del, Nov. 9.—An automobile carrying a Pennsylvania license tag, the number of which could not be distinguished, ran over and almost instantly killed James Brinkley, a 5 year old colored boy, on the State road, near Mount Pleasant, at noon Tuesday.

The boy had caught a ride on the back of a farm team and had jumped off and was walking by the roadside when the car bore down on him. He was knocked down and run over by two wheels. The driver never slackened his speed and left the boy lying where he was. A passing automobilist rushed him to the office of Dr. E. G. Clark, of Middletown, where it was found that the boy had died almost instantly from compression of brain. Coroner Latomus, of Wilmington, was notified and the State detectives were put on the case.

At the toy opening of R. E. Knight and Son on Friday evening there will be grand concert on the Edison disc machine. Come and hear your favorite singer. All grown-ups are welcome and on Saturday at 3 p. m., bring the children. All will be welcome.

MEETING OF EDUCATORS

Eleventh Annual Conference of Virginia Will be Held in Richmond Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Educational Conference of Virginia, which is composed of the State Teachers' Association, Division Superintendents Association, School Trustees' Association, and the Co-Operative Education Association, will be held in Richmond, November 28th to December 1st, inclusive.

One of the very best programs ever arranged for the Conference will be carried out at this session. Such prominent men as Dr. Hollis Dann, of Cornell University; Mr. John Kendrick Bangs, the well known platform orator; Mr. T. S. Settle, Field Secretary of the National Playgrounds' and Recreation Association of America; Hon. E. A. Miller, U. S. Agricultural Department; Dr. Thomas H. Briggs of Columbia University; Dr. George H. Denny, President University of Alabama, Dr. L. W. Payne, jr., University of Texas, and Dr. William McAndrews, of New York City, are some of the prominent speakers that will address the conference.

A special musical program will be rendered by the After-School Violin Classes, the Symphony Orchestra and a Colored Concert Company. A special luncheon will be given by the Merchants' Association for all those attending the Conference.

Many of the departments of this conference have been combined, so that there will not be such a large number of meetings in session at the same time as formerly. This will enable those attending the conference to exercise more liberty in visiting the various sectional conferences.

The superintendents will have their first session on Tuesday, but the general meeting will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, so everybody who expects to attend the conference should plan to reach Richmond Wednesday morning and remain through Friday night.

The After-School Violin Classes will render a special musical program Wednesday and Dr. McAndrews will deliver his address Friday night, followed by a special musical program in which the old time southern melodies will be sung and played by a colored musical organization, so that from the very opening session on Wednesday until the closing session on Friday night the meeting will be brim full of interest and pleasure for all who attend.

In order to enable a large number to attend the Conference the railways of the State have offered greatly reduced round trip rates, which will be on sale November 27-28-29, with the final return date being December 3rd. This rate can be ascertained from stations by inquiring of the agents.

PRINCE GEORGE WET?

Congressman Mudd Carries Maryland County by Thousand.

Hyattsville, Nov. 9.—The election in Prince George's county Tuesday, furnished several surprises the most pronounced of which was the victory for the anti-prohibitionists. While there is one district and one precinct yet to be heard from, there is no question but that the "wets" have won by a majority of between 50 and 100.

The vote on this question so far counted is 2,670 to 2,673. Another surprise was the large majority obtained by Congressman Mudd over Jackson H. Ralston the Democratic candidate, this being the latter's home county.

Mudd carried the county by more than 1,000 while Wilson got practically 300, and Lewis won over France by something over 100.

But little interest was taken on the budget amendment, which, however, carried easily.

Notice! Notice!

On account of not being able to find a satisfactory driver for our jitney we discontinued its operation. We will begin operations again today and solicit your patronage, assuring you of efficient service. Remschell Service Line.

AWAITING THE VERDICT

While there is every reason to believe that Woodrow Wilson has been elected to succeed himself as President of the United States, it may require a day or two more to determine that fact to the satisfaction of his political enemies, especially those who have recently bet ten to eight on Charles E. Hughes. The Virginian still keeps in the lead, and this fact is causing great anxiety to those who on Tuesday night were enthused by the first dispatches and were lulled to sleep by the delusion that a majority of the people of the United States had performed the stupid trick of changing executives at one of the most critical periods in the history of the American nation.

We realized the uncertainty of man, but could not be made to believe that enough thoughtless people could be brought together to accomplish such an end. We had by no means given up the fight at the wee sma' hours of Tuesday, and were not surprised next morning to find out that the republican cheers had been made upon an uncertain foundation. The latter are now as desperate as when Tilden had carried the country in '76 and Zach Chandler and other leaders in of the republican hosts persisted in claiming that Hayes had won the modus operandi of those days form an unpleasant reminiscence, and we will not unearth them now. All that need be said is this: Tilden was declared the loser, and during the four years Hayes held the position of President many simply called him "Mr. Hayes," only this and nothing more. Others, less courteous, instead of addressing him as "His Excellency," persisted in calling him "His Fraudulency," throughout his entire term.

It took several days to prove conclusively to the republicans that Grover Cleveland had been elected in 1884 and not James G. Blaine. It may take equally as long to convince the supporters of Hughes that the majority of the people of the United States do not want him for President.

VIRGINIA SOLDIERS

The Brownsville Daily Herald of a recent issue speaks of the good impression produced by the Virginia troops now on the border. They make special reference to the First and Second Regiments. The Alexandria Light Infantry composes part of the former. The fact that General Pershing said that should he need any more soldiers for service in Mexico he would call upon the First and Second Virginia Regiments has attracted the especial attention of the Brownsville people. Captain Scott, it will be remembered, said the Virginians have proven to be the best soldiers on the Mexican border.

People of Brownsville heartily agree with the captain, and are loud in their expressions of praise of the troops from the Old Dominion.

Captain Scott in his letter said that Virginia ought to think a lot of her soldiers. Virginia has ever been proud of her soldiers as well as her statesmen. Alexandrians have always been among the first to offer their service to their country in time of need. They were part of the continental army under George Washington, fought valiantly again in the second war for independence and within a few miles of Alexandria when the British ships were passing the White House, were again up in arms in 1846 when war with Mexico was seen to be inevitable, cast their lot with the late Southern Confederacy, enlisted under the Stars and Stripes when the short-lived war with Spain was declared, and in 1916 rallied again to the defense of the same flag when the patience and diplomacy of the United States with Mexico had become exhausted.

While we are proud of our soldier boys, it is pleasing to learn that [illegible] far away from

MR. BRY[illegible] WORK

William Jennings Bryan has been the target for many sneers and denunciations even from members of his own party during the last year, and many were inclined to think he had "laid down" in the recent campaign. But he comes to the front now smiling and good-natured with Nebraska and pretty nearly all the Western States in which he campaigned in his hand as an offering to Democracy and progress. A contemporary suggests that we got very angry with Mr. Bryan when he left Mr. Wilson's Cabinet, but whatever else may be said of him, he has borne no malice, and he did his duty like a man in the battle just ended. And he did it in a section where his voice still counts.

PEACE STILL POPULAR

The result of Tuesday's election shows that the people of the United States still have a very high appreciation of the blessings of peace. A large proportion of the Wilson vote was a vote against war. Even in sections where the Rough Rider was formerly most popular the dove of peace was a general favorite Tuesday. It is suggested that Mr. Roosevelt's indictment of Mr. Wilson may now have to be broadened into an indictment of the American people. Teddy may have to emigate to some other country, if he finds that nearly half the American people really think peace a good thing.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Mrs. S. W. Mashburn of Roanoke, escaped death in a miraculous manner yesterday, when a bullet was deflected from its course by a corset stay. The bullet was fired from a pistol in the hands of the woman's husband, F. W. Mashburn, a barber, it is alleged. It is said the shooting followed a domestic quarrel. The bullet struck Mrs. Mashburn in the left side and inflicted a slight bruise where the stay was driven into the flesh. It dropped to the floor, as she ran down the stairs. Mashburn was arrested immediately after the shooting, and placed in jail.

The first business session of the Baptist Woman' Misionary Union Auxiliary was held yesterday in Clifton Forge with Mrs. W. C. James, president, in the chair. After the preliminary organization missionaries and other visitors were recognzed. reports of officers also were made. Group meetings were features of the afternoon session. The evening session was devoted to conferences of missionaries.

Paying high tribute to the character and attainments of Judge James Keith, formerly president of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, Attorney Thomas B. Gay, on behalf of the Virginia Bar Association, yesterday presented to the court, which had convened in Richmond for its November term, the resolutions adopted, by the association at its annual convention at Old Point on the occasion of Judge Keith's retirement from the Supreme Court.

A freight train derailment at Balcony Falls Tuesday near Clifton Forge caused severe injuries to Engineer G. S. Peaco and lesser injuries to the brakeman and fireman. The property loss was about $4,000.

Virginians who seek commissions in the officers' Reserve Corps authorized by the last Congress, are applying daily to Adjutant-General W. W. Sale. These applications are being forwarded to the headquarters of the Eastern Department at Governor's Island, from which information is being sent out to the prospective officers.

Miss Lucile Gillette, of Franklin, proved herself a heroine in an encounter with a mad dog on the street of Franklin. Miss Gillette was on her way to the offices of the Virginia Buggy Co., where she is employed as stenographer, when a dog apparently mad, rushed at her and made a vicious attack. She had a small silver handled umbrella in her hand, and managed to knock the dog over. As he snapped at her she thrust the umbrella in his mouth and stood on the dog's neck, calling for help, until two colored men, driving by, came and killed him with shovels. The umbrella was chewed to threads, and examination showed that the animal had rabies.

Indications are that George Wade, captured Tuesday, and who is said to have confessed to the murder of his stepfather, James Nathaniel Gordon, in Henrico county, will have a speedy trial. Mr. Gordon, the murdered man, was shot through the back of the head while sitting on his front porch the morning of September 6. It is said that on a previous occasion Wade struck his stepfather on the head with an axe. Wade's mother, on account of an attack of anger of the son, had left the house and gone to the home of a neighbor. When she returned with the neighbor she found her husband sitting bolt upright on the porch, dead. Wade fled and has since been wandering about the country.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association to Co-operate With Catawba Teacher's Associationto build Hospital.

Plans were determined upon at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association held this week to co-operate with the Catawba Teacher's Association to raise funds for a hospital for crippled children. The need for such a hospital has been much discussed by the Tuberculosis Association and it had been determined to do this piece of work as soon as the Negro Sanatorium, in which the Association took so active an interest, had been provided for.

"It is time we did somethng for our crippled children," said Captain W. W. Baker, President of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association when seen today." Four hundred and twelve children under 15 years of age died in Virginia from tuberculosis in 1914. Many of them died of tuberculosis of the bone. Many others have the disease, and no provisions are made for their treatment. There is no special hospital or ward in the State for these children. The general hospitals take them in limited numbers, but the long period of treatment necessary makes it almost essentail that special provisions should be made for them. Many of these children if treated early would become self supporting citizens and would have practically their full opportuinity for happiness and service".

I is planned to use a portion of the funds procured by the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals for this object. The proceeds from the seals were used in the same manner to further the cause of the Negro Sanitorium. The full plans for the children's sanatorium have not been worked out, but a special committee has already been appointed consisting of Dr. Ennion G. Williams, Dr. W. M. Graham, of Richmond; Dr. Charles Grandy of Norfolk, and Miss Agnes D. Randolph, Executive Secretary, of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

ADVERTISERS USE THE BIBLE

In Order to Bring Their Enterprises Before the People

Some people have not yet woke up to the fact that this is an advertising age—even the churches have taken it up in many cities—and over in New York city an enterprising firm is making use of the scriptures to bring their enterprises before the public.

The Bible, aside from its inspiration is a never-failing source of wisdom. Would you know more about law, read Moses; medicine, read Deuteronomy; poetry, read the Psalm; romance, read the story of Isaac and Rebekah, and as to literature, it has not only encircled it but in many instances has furnished entire themes for some of the greatest writers.

It remains, however, for an enterprising New York firm to draw upon it for an advertisement. A recent tendency of different religious bodies, is to attract the young people to church by encouraging amusements of one kind or another.

Some churches have a separate building regularly equipped with athletic paraphernalia. Others have converted former unused basement rooms, as in the case of several New York churches, and the firm doing the work, in order to secure further bids, used attractive advertising for the purpose, quoting a passage from Isaiah, which reads: "The waste places shall be made glad and the desert shall blossom as the rose."

That it pay to advertise is more and more evident. It is said when Lorillard the famous tobacconist, first started in business in a very small way, he found waiting for cutomers so tiresome he started his brain to work, and beside his newspaper advertising gathered several lads and paid them to go in different stores and ask for Lorillard's tobacco. They kept this up day after day for some little while, when the merchants began to look about to secure some of the tobacco for which there was a daily demand. He soon found himself busy enough supplying the trade, with the result every one knows, and his unique advertising did it.

Few, however, are clever enough to select a scriptural passage for this purpose which is at once apt and appropriate as the one used by the men of Gotham.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

Miss Lucy Terrell Formerly with the State Board of Health, is Added to the Staff of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association

Miss Lucy Terrell who has been with the State Board of Health for somewhat over a year has been added to the field force of the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association. Miss Terrell will spend her entire time in the field and will go immediately to Washington County to form an organization there for the observance of Tuberculosis Hour.

The plans for the observance of the Tuberculosis hour in the schools of the State will occupy Miss Terrell for the next month. Twenty-five or more of the county superintendents have agreed to observe this hour and the details are being perfected. The State Board of Education set apart the hour from 2 to 3 p. m. of December 8th., as tuberculosis hour, so as to impress the imagination of the children with the fact that thousands of Virginia children were occupied at the same time in the study of the great white plague. Programs for the hour have been issued by the State Board of Education, and in addition to this the Virginia Anti-Tuberculosis Association has programs suggested by the National Association for the Study and prevention of tuberculosis. In connection with children's day this year, it is planned to enroll children who sell 10 cents worth of Red Cross Christmas seals as modern health crusaders. Thousands of these crusaders are already scattered over the country, and they will be banded together this year into organizations which will carry on any health work in which the community is interested.

Miss Terrell is now in Richmond, but will leave tomorrow for the Southwest where she will perfect plans for tuberculosis hour and begin the movement to establish the modern health crusaders in Virginia.

THIS OLD SOLDIER SAYS DRECO BEAT HIS WORST ENEMY

Spent Much Money for Medicines, But Nothing Helped Till he Took Dreco

Robert Dornen, residing at "Belleview" in Hagerstown, Md., an old veteran of 74 years, is a well known and familiar figure in his home town. He made this statement recently:

"Dreco has certainly been a good friend to me. It has done me a world of good and I now feel better than I have in years.

"I've been in lots of close places, and had many a hard struggle but this stomach trouble, constipation and kidney disease, I've been battling against for years, is the worst enemy I ever had to fight. I suffered so terribly from smothering spells and shortness of breath that I was actually afraid to eat anything. I was doing all I could all the time to check it up, but I could see it was growing worse. Finally I got in such a bad condition that I not only could not work but I could not walk and I was forced to surrender and go to bed. I got so bad I had to be lifted up in bed so I could breathe.

"I was treated by good doctors and had spent lots of money on medicines, but I kept going down till I began taking Dreco, and very soon I began to feel better. After my first bottle I began to improve very much and the improvement was rapid. I have now taken two bottles and the change the medicine has made in my condition is wonderful. I can eat anything I want now without pain or distress. The smothering spells and shortness of breath have stopped, and I can sleep the night through without waking, neither do my kidneys call me up during the night anymore. I can walk around with all ease and climb stairs without any difficulty. I am glad to give my indorsement for Dreco for maybe it will help some other old soldier or someone else struggling like I did to get relief from their suffering."

CHAIRMEN'S STATEMENTS

Wilcox Appears in Deathstic Role as Hughes's Column Begins to Totter.

New York, Nov. 9.—"Any man who attempt to steal the Presidency from Charles E. Hughes will do so at their peril", was the climax of a statement issued at midnight by Chairman Willcox, of the Republican national committee.

He added that only a contemptible scoundrel would intimate that Hughes would permit any one to attempt to steal the office for him.

The statement follows:

"The returns from States in which the vote is close are coming in slowly. The delay appears to be caused by the time required to get in reports from rural communities. The latest returns clearly indicate that Minnesota, North Dakota, New Mexico, Oregon and probably California have gone for Hughes. These added to the States already certain give him 280 electoral votes. Even if all or some of the electoral votes of California should go to Wilson, there are still enough left to assure the election of Hughes.

"Every precaution must be taken to secure an honest count of the ballots in every close State. Anybody who intimates that Charles Evans Hughes would permit any man or group of men to attempt to steal the Presidency for him is a contemptible scoundrel and knows it.

"I say further with a full sense of responsibility to the American people that an y man or group of men who attempt to steal the Presidency from Mr. Hughes will do so at their peril."

Chairman McCormick issued the following statement in reply to the one made by Mr. Wilcox:

"President Wilson is re-elected and Mr. Wilcox shows he is aware of that fact. His wail in reply to the charge of some imaginary person that some one expects Mr. Hughes or his managers will try to secure the election through fraud is worthy of the best traditions of the Republican party.

"The public has had a chance to judge the conduct of the campaign of the two candidates and I am perfectly willing to let the people decide which side will be likely to resort to desperate methods."

DESPOILED OF TRESSES

Thug Fells Farmer's Wife and Cuts Off Beautiful Hair.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 9—Mrs. Chester Potts, 30 years old, wife of a farmer living between Kingston and New Brunswick, was felled by a blackjack or similar instrument on the threshold of her home Tuesday morning and robbed completely of her hair, the beauty of which was famous in the vicinity. It was a yard long.

A man described as between 35 and 40 years old, stout, swarthy and blackmustached, appeared at the Potts home. He offered needles and thread for sale. Mrs. Potts said she required none, and as she turned to close the door he leaped at her, laughing as he struck her down. Just before the blow fell, Mrs. Potts told County Detective Ferguson, the man said: "I've often done this to women."

With Mrs. Potts unconscious, there was nothing to hinder the man from ransacking the house. But nothing was disturbed, except that he clipped her hair to the scalp and carried it away.

CATFISH KNOCKS MAN DOWN.

Jump for Liberty Lands it in Face Leaving Marks.

Salina, Kan., Nov. 9.—E. A. Hillman, of Wakeeney, has a sore face, caused by a tussle with a large catfish which he attempted to catch wih his hands while swimming.

The fish was seen under a log at the edge of the creek, apparently asleep. Hillman slipped his hands along the side of the fish and had almost closed his fingers through the gills when his fishship came to life and jumped for liberty.

It struck Hillman such a blow in the face that he was thrown off his balance and his face badly lacerated, and then the fish escaped.

NEWS OF THE DAY

It is the secret source, say authorities of the house of correction in Chicago, of the quantities of dream-provoking drugs that are smuggled constantly to prisoner-patients in the "dope cure" ward of the bridwell. A prisoner is being weaned away from the morphine habit against his will. Some bright day a pretty woman comes along. He says she is his wife, or his sister, or some other near relation. She is overjoyed at meeting her dear one again, and naturally she throws her arms around his neck, pulls him close and plants a long, lingering kiss upon his lips. The patient shortly afterwards shows signs of having had access to the "joy" drugs. The "dope" was slipped to him in that long, lingering kiss, perhaps as much as fifty or sixty grains.

HEARST PAPERS BARRED.

Official Order Prohibits Their Circulation in Canada From Saturday Next.

Ottawa, Ont. Nov. 9. — The Hearst papers have been placed under the ban in Canada. These publications have been prohibited from circulation from Saturday next. The heavy penalties of the war measures act will apply to any one having them in possession after that date.

An explanatory memorandum issued this afternoon says:

"The Postmaster-General of Canada has issued a warrant under the provisions of the war measures act, whereby the Hearst papers have been refused the privilege of the mails in Canada and are prohibited from circulation in Canada in any way.

"No person in Canada is to be permitted after Saturday next to be in possession of the newspapers or of any issues of them, and any person in possession of them shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment for any term not exceeding five years, or both fine and imprisonement."

DEAD MAN DRIVES MOTOR CAR

Five Girls Participate in Wild Ride When Chauffeur is Stricken With Heart Disease

St. Paul, Nov. 9—Dead at the wheel of a motor car in which five girls from St. Margaret's Academy, Minneapolis, were riding, Fred Smith struck and probably fatally injured Adam Kramer, drove the car three blocks across a railroad track, over curbstones and among trees, yesterday afternoon. The automobile struck a tree and stopped. None of the girls in the car was injured.

When Smith died his foot was on the accelerator and the car picked up speed until it was traveling at a rapid rate. Twice it struck the curbstone and rebounded into the centre of the street, until at a low spot the car jumped onto the parked stretch in the centre of the boulevard.

Mary Lugowski, 15 years old, riding in the front seat with Smith noted his helplessness and, though she knew nothing of driving, grasped the steering wheel. Terror- stricken, she guided the car between the trees until Smith's muscles relaxed in death, eased on the throttle and the car slowed down.

Kramer was taken to the St. Paul Hospital, unconscious. Attending physicians say his skull is fractured and several rib broken.

"Don't tell mother," he cried as he was being taken to the hospital. Florence King, one of the witnesses of the accident, said Kramer was standing by a wagon talking when struck. The driver then appeared dead, she says.

Smith was a married man, with two children. Death was due to heart failure.

WANTS SLEEPING CAR AUTO.

John Armstrong Chaloner Petitians Supreme Court of New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—John Armstrong Chaloner, author of the famous query, "Who's Looney Now?" has applied to the Supreme Court for an order directing Thomas T. Sherman, his judicial committee, to spend $1,700 for a sedan sleeping car automobile for Chaloner.

Chaloner is a judicial incompetent in this State. He escaped from an asylum here and went to Virginia, where he was declared competent. He lives on his estate there, Merry Mills, Cobham, Albemarle county, Va. His property, which produces an income of several thousands of dollars, is in the care of Mr. Sherman, as committee.

Chaloner says, in his petition, that he has suffered from a nervous affliction of the spine for the past seventeen years. Alhough he can ride twenty-one miles at a stretch on horseback, and can walk a long distance, he cannot sit on a chair for more than an hour at a time without suffering from his spinal trouble. He says he had a heavily padded leather chair made to sit in so that he may not be inconvenienced.

He has to travel from his estate to Richmond, Va., once a month and wants the sleeping car automobile to make the trip of ninety miles comfortable. He says he cannot use railroad car seats, because they hurt him, and sleeping car berths are not available. He prefers to ride horseback, but the journey is too long to undertake each month.

RESULT IN VIRGINIA

Even With Loss of the Ninth District The Vote is Unchanged

After another valiant attack the Democrats failed, so the returns show, to capture the Republican Verdun—the Ninth Virginia district. Senator Trinkle marshalled his men and attacked from all sides, but entrenched firmly, set in their ways, the fighting stand-patters refused to be ousted. It was a battle royal, and Senator Trinkle reduced the ranks of the defenders, cutting their majority considerably. It was about the only fight of moment in the state. Congressman Saunders will go back to congress from the Fifth district with a better lead than before, and Judge Harrison, in the Seventh appears to have wiped up the face of the earth with John Paul, the republican candidate for congress after a campaign that was somewhat warm.

Virginia's delegation will be unchanged in congress so far as its political complexion is concerned, but there will be one new member—Judge Harrison taking the place of Congressman James Hay. The majorities for the Democrats everywhere appear to have been sustained or increased. President Wilson won Virginia's vote, of course, the belief being that he has increased the majority given him four years ago, when he was given 40,000. Senator Swanson had no opposition for the United States senate and ran far ahead of the national ticket. His majority will go to about 60,000, the real surprise of the vote in Virginia being the small return made for the Socialist candidate, while Hanley, the Prohibitionist, practically failed to start, judging from the returns received.

Outside the Ninth district, the contests in the Fifth and Seventh were of a rather ordinary type, but they served to arouse a good deal of attention locally, while the situation in the Ninth was one that attracted interests in every direction, due to the continued attack, the earnestness of the fight and the readiness of the Democrats to respond to every call.

Here is the list of the members of congress from Virginia for the congress which will convene in December, 1917; First district, W. A. Jones; Second district, E. E. Holland; Third district, Andrew Jackson Montague; Fourth district, Walter A. Watson; Fifth district, E. W. Saunders; Sixth district, Carter Glass; Seventh district, Thomas W. Harrison; Eighth district, C. C. Carlin; Ninth district, C. Bascomb Slemp, Tenth district, Hal D. Flood.

HIS GLASS EYE EXPLODES.

Singular Mishap Injures Man as He Watches Passing Automobile.

Malaga, N. J. Nov. 9—While John B. Miller, of Malaga was watching an automobile go by his door, his glass eye suddenly exploded, causing great suffering by the lacerations it caused. The cause of the explosion is a mystery to the physicians here, who removed the fragments of glass.

One theory is that a sunray from the automobile windshield, or perhaps the headlight reflection, created a penetrating flash which generated enough heat to cause the explosion.

EXPECTED TO PAY FOR LANAO.

It Must Be Proved, However, That Vessel Sailed Legally Under American Flag

Washington, Nov. 8.—Precedents, established in the case of the American ship William P. Frye, wheat-laden and bound for England, sunk in mid-Atlantic by a German auxiliary cruiser, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, in 1915, are expected to lead the German government voluntarily to offer to pay for the steamer Lanao, sunk by a German submarine off the coast of Portugal on October 28, if it is established that the vessel was sailing legally under the American flag and registry.

The State Department is making every effort to develop the facts, and it appears certain that due warning was given and proper care taken to safeguard the lives of all on board. The question to be cleared up is whether the Lanao was an American ship. It is known that negotiations for her sale by the American owners to a Norwegian shipowner had been initiated before the vessel started on the voyage, but it is not clear whether these had been concluded at the time of the attack.

THREE-STORIED LONDON.

Two Old Cities Lie Under The Modern City.

Roman London lies buried about 18 feet below the level of Cheapside. In nearly all parts of the city there have been discovered tesselated pavements, Roman tombs, lamps, vases, sandals, keys, ornaments weapons, coins and statues of the Roman gods.

When, a little over a century ago, deep sections were made for the sewers in Lombard street, the lowest stratum was found to consist of tesselated pavements. Many colored dice were found lying scattered about, and above this stratum was a thick layer of wood ashes suggesting the debris of charred wooden buildings.

While building the exchange workmen came upon a gravel pit full of oyster shells, bones of cattle, old sandals and shattered pottery. Two pavements were dug up under the French church in Threadneedle street and other pavements have been cut through in several parts of the city. The soil seems to have risen over Roman London at the rate of nearly a foot a century. Still further must the searcher dig to find the third London, the earlier London of the Britons. (London Chronicle).

Oyster season opens at the Rammel Cafe, North Royal Street.
